

The Department of Graduate Studies of the College of Education at the University of South Florida, the Florida Campus, seeks to announce its recruitment position to be appointed to the doctoral research and education from starting August 1st, 2021.

MINIMUM REQUIREMENTS:

- Degree (Ph.D. or Ed.D.) in Research Methods, Statistics or Evaluation from an accredited state or international university
- Academic preparation and professional experience in qualitative and quantitative research
- Comprehensive and experience teaching courses in research methods, evaluation or statistics at the undergraduate or graduate level
- Experience in research or evaluation & educational or social sciences
- Publications in journal of specialization or other works of research or evaluation
- Experience in the use of quantitative research software
- Experience in teaching supervising researchers, thesis or dissertations
- Experience in applying for grant or grants or participation in grant proposals with external funds
- Experience with the use of technology for both in person and distance education
- Demonstrable professional accomplishments in the field or area of inquiry in research or evaluation
- Fluency in Spanish and English

RESPONSIBILITIES:

To teach graduate level courses, conduct research in area of inquiry, and disseminate it through professional activities or services, supervising thesis, grant and academic research activities in department or within field of interest from our facilities, actively participate in department and campus activities, develop research proposals for the search doctoral level.

REQUIRED DOCUMENTS:

- Statement of purpose which includes your professional teaching and research goals
- Current Curriculum Vitae, including professional and academic references
- Official academic transcripts for every degree (grade transcripts may be e-mailing)
- Examples of influence or creative contributions (copies of a maximum of three recent publications in journals or period related journals)
- Two recent letters of recommendation sent directly to: hr@usf.edu